

SUBMISSIONS NOW OPEN for the 2024 Select exhibition! Submission deadline is August 31, 2024.

Thank you for your interest in submitting your work to the Garvey|Simon Select Program. I've included information about our review process below. Artists chosen through the review program will be included in our digital and viewing room show Select 2024, to take place in the fall of 2024. This annual show, now in its 9th year, will be on Artsy as well as in person at our NYC viewing space on the Upper West Side (by appointment). The exhibition will also be published and promoted on the Garvey|Simon website, social media, and direct outreach to collectors and press.

Here's how our artist review program works:

Please email romina@garveysimon.com and include your name, your website, your CV, and your Instagram handle (if you have one) in the email.* Please make the subject of the email SELECT. There is ONE application fee of $70. The administrative fee covers the cost to run this program. Once you express interest in continuing the process, you will then be invoiced $70 to be put in the queue for review.

If we feel that your work might fit our program and collectors' interests, you will be invited to submit more specific images, a statement and (depending on location) bring work to our office in NYC to present it in person (an example of your work can also be shipped). Meetings may sometimes be done on Zoom in certain circumstances.

Select 2024 will be a group show of ten or fewer artists. We strongly advise you to learn more about our gallery's focus first and make sure your work is appropriate for our programming before paying any fee. During the exhibition, selected works will be consigned to, and sold through Garvey|Simon. We take a 50% commission on sales and roundtrip shipping to and from gallery is the responsibility of the artist. The exhibition is typically 3 months long.

After the exhibition, once we get a sense of how our collectors respond to your work, we can discuss future relationships or collaborations if deemed appropriate.

Thank you for your interest!

*Please note - we do not accept submissions from artists who do not have a website.
